

HCC Dictionary

Address Book: The HCC Address Book is the new version of the HCC Directory. The Address Book features contact information of HCC members, club information, and other contacts that may be useful to HCC.

Foundational Document: The HCC Foundational Document outlines the views and goals of Hill Country Communicators clearly in a neat and concise manner.

Library: The HCC Library is simply a list of books that club members have and are willing to lend out to other members. The page on the website allows you to read information about the books, buy the books, or request the book from a club member.

Photo Album: The HCC Photo Album is a page where pictures taken by HCC photographers are posted on the HCC website.

Photo Album AV: The HCC Photo Album AV (Audio/Video) is a page where videos taken by our cinematographers are posted on the HCC website.

Office Guidelines: The Office Guidelines provide the descriptions for student officer positions, as well as outline the duties that each officer must perform.

Wiki: A Wiki is a “a Web site that allows collaborative editing of its content and structure by its users.” HCC uses Wikis to share and work together on things like apologetics cards, debate cases, and extemporaneous speeches. (more below)

Skype: Skype is an online calling/chat program that HCC uses to both practice debates and have meetings. Skype allows users to create conference calls and talk to each other over the internet.
HCC website.

Other Questions? Related speech and debate questions may be found at: www.hillcocom.org/Xfind.

Dictionary is a product of XFind Web Search™, an advanced tool used for searching and indexing websites. If you have any other questions that should be added to Dictionary, send an email to webmaster@hillcocom.org.